Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.

Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.

Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.

Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin, remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.

If you have any reason to suspect even a 5 touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

Struck by a school bus, Christine rumbelow, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brumbelow, of Roswell, was admitted to Grady hospital Monday night in a serious con-dition. Her skoll is fractured, hos-pital attaches said. The child was struck Monday afternoon as she was walking along the road from the Newton school to her home, near Roswell. She was taken first to Alpharetta for treatment but later she was brought to the Atlanta hostital. According to her father, J. H. Blake, of Roswell, was the driver of the bus and no case has been made against him. Exactly how the child came to be run down by the machine was not known.

ROOSEVELT SILENT BUT FRIENDS FEAR BEER BILL FAILURE

Governor Gardner told his audience his state had "gone farther than any other state in enacting effective measures," asserting it took the depression to emphasize the need for a shifting of responsibility.

Historians of the future, he declared, will credit "to this devastating period of readjustment" as a positive benefit the creation of a "public opin in receptive to change and compelling in its demand for economy, a fairer of first functions of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the burden of taxation, and a sounder redistribution of the succession of government."

Grouping under the "No. Carolina debts—constituting the major services supported by local taxation, my state today has an affective control and check on local expenditures," Governor Gardner declared, will credit "to this devastating period of readjustment" as a positive but reducing the state's property tax bill was decreased from $60,000.000.

He said the state's property tax bill was decreased from $60,000.000.

Bronchial Troubles Need Creomulsion

Bronchial troubles may lead to some-thing serious. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold ac-tion; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for per-sistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles, Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and in-flammation, while the creosote goes on to the atomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after coldsor flu. Money refunded if any coughorcold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (Adv.)

The petition for a clemency recommendation said that Gallogly was never convicted by a jury, although twice placed on trial, and contended that he pleaded guilty to save Harsh from the electric chair. Harsh was given the death sentence but this was reduced to life imprisonment by agreement of Boykin and the court after Gallogly had pleaded guilty and received a life sentence.

Gallogly's presence at the scene of the holdup, his attorneys argued was in an effort to persuade Harsh not to attempt the robbery.

Several attempts were made to extend debate time, but the wets apparently were so confident of victory they prevented it.

Coming down into the historic well of the house to open the brief debate, Rainey read the democratic and republican wet plauks. He called upon his forces to support the measure declaring it conformed "with the wording of both platforms."

Attacking the procedure invoked by Speaker Garner, Representative Snell of New York, republican leader, said "you are not only breaking the precedents of 150 years, but you are not showing proper respect to the office of president by passing important legislation before the usual notification of meeting and receiving any message the weeking and receiving any message.

Mill Silence.

With the conclusion of the debate, the roll was called amid unusual silence. Every member and the 700 people crowded into the galleries listened to check the vote of each member.

"Two-thirds not having voted the resolution is lost." Speaker Garner said in announcing the vote.

Questioned by Representative Michener, republican, Michigan, if he would "consider a similar resolution is lost." Speaker Garner said. "The chair will decide that when it's brought up."

Immediately after the house adjourned, however, Garner told newspapermen:

"I shall not give a vote on any other resolution except the democratic repeal or nothing."

Your Own Fields Must Suffer If Another Man Plows With Your Heifer -By Robert Quillen-

Despite the antiquated laws that prevent combination, business and industry now operate on a scale so vast that no individual or partnership can hope to possess enough money to finance it.

Legitimate industry doesn't form stock companies because it wishes to share a good thing with the public. It does what it is forced to do. It needs millions of dollars for expansion and development, and the only late Edgar Wallace recalled the elder Dumas (minus the genius), says the Manchester Guardian. Unlike Dumas, his vast production was all his own; dentist or the grocer may not exceed $5,000, but when this sum is multiplied by several million it becomes a vast reservoir of wealth. this is the source from which business and industry must obtain capital

Since this is true, and since it is equally true that every citizen's welfare depends on the condition of business and industry, the very life of the nation depends on the small investor's confidence in the integrity

That confidence has been shaken. It must be rebuilt. And the quickest way to rebuild it is to make the issue and sale of worthless stock as hazardous as the counterfeiting of money.

The public must be protected from every form of swindle.

As this is written, itinerant agents are peddling a certain popular ndustrial stock at $22.50. A prominent physician and a judge, both hetter informed than the average small investor, bought hundreds of shares at that price. Yet the stock was then available in the New York exchange at $1.75.

They were very much pleased with a telegram from Judge again the salary fixing proposition. Kenesaw Landis offering congratulations.

"You gentlemen have enough beef to give Atlanta a winner," said Judge Landis in welcoming the two gentlemen back into the ranks of organized baseball.

Colonel Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston, I gather, is to be the safety valve for Mr. Wilbert Robinson. The two gentlemen carry on an eternal verbal warfare with one another. Colonel Huston is constantly flinging delicate barbs at Mr. Robinson, but then Mr. Robinson's epidermis, toughened by years at Brook-lyn where they fling very wicked barbs, seemed not to feel them at all.

'My idea of a winning ball club is good pitching and good hitting," said Mr. Robinson.

That is everyone's idea," said Mr. Huston, flinging a barb But Mr. Robinson went right on.

It was a very fine meeting and the talk was in good round numbers and big. fine, rolling words and phrases. It was something new for the baseball reporters, fed on the husks for years and years. Here were some fellows talking about getting a ball club and they did not have out a pad and pencil trying to determine how little they would spend. Nor were they moaning about the high price of the business.

They told the baseball writers to pack right up and go along with the baseball representatives and they did not make the invitation sound as if they were asking for a first mortgage on the publishing house or the presses.

As a result the baseball reporters came out of the meeting slightly pop-eyed and begin to feel that the Atlanta baseball situation had emerged from the wilderness from where it has been wandering for 40 years and was starting out with something to look forward to.

Mr. Jimmy Jones, of The Constitution staff, will be along with the two representatives and I commend his stories to readers of these pages. Jones knows more ball players and more baseball than any other young man in Dixie.

TENNESSEE VS. AUBURN.

There is a great hue and cry in the land for a post-season game between Auburn and Tennessee to settle the championship claims of the two institutions in the Southern conference.

The game would be a grand set-up, one that would pack Grant field, and any charity such as the Scottish Rite Home for Crippled Children would benefit consid-

It would be an attraction pulling them in from far and near The Auburn team has just refused a game with Texas Christian, but a home game is more appropriate. Bobby Dodd, former Tennessee star, and now a Georgia Tech coach, is of the opinion that Tennessee would agree to the game.

It is a fine opportunity for gentlemen who can pull strings to get busy and pull them. Because such a game would be the best attraction of the year.

There has come across the desk recently an article pointing out that Harry Newman, while a sophomore and junior football player at Michigan, was censored because he called his number

It seems that the crowds did not care for Newman for the first two years. They thought he was a bit too cocky and called himself a bit too much. It didn't seem to matter that he was gaining on most of his tries with the football.

I have just read a fine human document in which many fine things are said about Harry Newman, who, it seems, grew from boyhood to manhood sometime between the spring semester and the fall football term.

And this year, the writer said, Newman called his own number only after other plays had failed or when a pass seemed obviously necessary. And so the great human document praised him extensively for doing a very foolish thing.

This probably explains why Michigan's running attack was not so consistent, depending on Newman's passing or kicking for its victories. Harry Newman seems to have been forced to call the signals of a lot of players who couldn't carry the football as well as he, simply because the mob wanted it so. They had called him selfish for two years. And so this year he just saw the others fail and then made it good himself.

I liked the way Newman closed it out. When the Michigan team returned from Minneapolis, where Newman had won the game with a kick when all the numbers he had called for the other boys wouldn't work, a great mob was on hand to greet the team and they were all calling for Newman.

But he had left the team and gone home to see his folks. The greeting fell a little flat.

Looking Backward.

In looking back through a football season which now has only a few games left, it is remarkable how little there is that looms in sharp, bold relief. The picture, in the main, leaves a blurred effect, with few decisive stand-outs-so evenly was the balance of power set.

Purdue missed a clean slate by one point. Nebraska and Wisconsin missed unbeaten campaigns by one point. One point barred Tennessee

Michigan and Southern California had to call on field goals to keep big slate spotless all the way through. Notre Dame, the team that looks to be the strongest of them all, had one decisive defeat thrown into its startled ranks.

Colgate, with the largest margin all the way through—without a point egistered against it—lacked the schedule test that others had to face. That was no fault of Colgate's, but this is a discussion of facts and records.

How to End Terrible Agong Without Salves or Cutting Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel. That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this man, internal realising can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the pre-scription of Dr. J. S. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success in even the most stubborn cases that Jacobs drug stores and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your

Miss Carver and Mr. Cormany Wed At Home Ceremony in Rome, Ga.

ROME, Ga., Dec. 5.—The marriage of Miss Sarah Beaulah Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor Carver, and Clifford Eugene Cormany, was solemnized Sunday morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Cheney Smith, on East Ninth street. Dr. Bunyan Stephens, pastor of First Baptist—church, officiated in the presence of the two families.

Mrs. C. H. Booker, pianist; Paul Nixon, cellist, and Broadus Moak, soloist, gave a program of wedding music. The marriage vows were made before an altar of ferns and southern smilax interminged with white flowers and lighted by cathedral tapers burning in pedestal candelabra.

The bride and bridegroom entered the living room together. The bride wore for the ceremony a brown rough crepe ensemble made with the smart holero jacket revealing a blouse of eggshell satin. The coat was collared with rich fur and the gown had the new high neck effect and big puffed sleeves. She wore a close-fitting brown

Although the horses were safe for the time being, the hardest pert of their work was to come. A heavy cor-ral must be built. Nails, saws, tools must be packed in. Modoc was sent off at a gallop over the long trail to the little town of Hammell for the necessary supplies.

During the Indian's absence Ben and Nevada tried to tame the wild prisoners by showing themselves from time to time at the edge of the cave, calling to the horses to get them used to the seund of their voices, and to prepare them for captivity. The horses reared, snorted, plunged at the rock-held, wooden gate. Would it hold against their maddened onslaught?

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a purer, more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs about one-fourth as much as readymade medicine, but which really has ho equal for breaking up obstinate coughs. equal for breaking up obstinate coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its bealing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

The Junior League cordially invites the Christmas shoppers of Atlanta to attend Junior League Day today, Tuesday, December the sixth, at Davison-Paxon's department store. A percentage of the day's business to go towards making little sick children well at the Henrietta Egleston Memorial Hospital.

Today, over 150 Junior League members will take their places be hind the counters in Davison-Paxon's, there to sell goods and receive a share of the profits for use in caring for sick children at the Henrietta Egleston Memorial Hospital on Forrest road.

The Atlanta Junior League, composed of approximately 300 young women between the ages of 18 and 40, pledge $6,000 each year to the support of the Junior League ward in the aforementioned hospital, it being the only one for children in the city. Besides financial assistance we give many hours of work there, making visits to the homes of the small patients, rolling bandages, doing office work and taking the dietitian to market.

While the Henrietta Egleston Memorial Hospital is the principal charity of the Junior League, our organization still finds time to aid practically every civic drive taking place in Atlanta during the year. This fall, for instance, we supplied a number of workers for the Community Chest campaign and also gave $1,500 to the drive from our

Now we are asking the public to help us! Everyone expects to do some Christmas shopping, we are only requesting that part of it be done in Davison-Paxon's today. DOBBS & CO.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Sentiment was improved today owing to the comparative firmness of the market on Naturday and tion. The favorable figures on the vote to suspend the rules heightened the hoges for success in the vote on the former resolution. Slow, steady accumulation brought about a sizanie upturn on comparatively small volume. When news of the defeat of the resolution was published traders immediately disposed of their holdings, erasing the gains for the day. Some improvement was noted near the close 1 is possible the president's message will combain recommendations for drastic reductions in the budget and these should be viewed constructively.

New York, Dec. 5.—Cotton was rather active on the opening 2 to 6 points lower on poorer Liverpool cables. The trade took offerings from the wouth, spot houses and locals. After the call the market was rather dull with the trade supplying most of the buying power. There are buying orders in October for about 15,000 bales at 6 cents and this seemed to act as a steadying effect on the market. The private crop estimates show large increases from the reports of the same firms last month and are all well above 12,000,000 bales.

Miscellaneous Markets.

NEW YORK. Dec. 5.—Cotton goods were quiet today with prices barely steady. Burlaps continue to reflect the uncertainties of sterling exchange. Additional lines of worsted dress goods are being shown for spring and sampling is active. Silks are in fair demand for spring and winter resert trade. Rayon factories are operating in full.

WOOL.

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—Large offerings of wool appear to be quite firm as holders met with encouragement upon the recently increased activity of busers. Limited quantities, however, are still available at prices slightly under recent quotations. Late last week medium grade fleeces thorsed a little stand ir tendeucy. Receipts of domestic wool at Boston during the week ending December 3, estimated by the Boston Grain and Flour Exchange, amounted to 4.843,100 pounds as

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 .- (P)-Bond prices eased moredately today in thin trading. While sales totaled only $6,-776,000, par value, the Associated Press-Standard Statistics average for Press-Standard Statistics average for 60 domestic corporate issues lost three-tenths of a point.

The market apparently paid little attention to the foreign debt situation. Not so pleasant for the statistical menu was the decline in steel production. Railroad business was not improving in the volume some of the more optimistic had hoped for and retail trade was rather indifferent.

Most railway liens held comparatively steady. Baltimore & Ohio 4 1-2s, due next March, advanced 1-2 a point. The stamped bonds of this issue were also active at a gain of 1 point. Southern 4s were off 4 7-8. New Orleans & Northeastern 4 1-2s lost 18 points on the sale of a single bond, while Mobile & Ohio general 4s gained 13 points with a turnover of 22 bonds.

Most of the high-grade utilities and intertable more second.

Most of the high-grade utilities and industrials were steady. Gains of about a point were recorded by issues of Western Union and Tobacco Products.

Foreign and United States government bonds were somewhat dull and mixed. Activity in the federals centered in Treasury 3s and 3 1-8s, both of which declined 4-32 and 10-32 of a point, respectively. Other Treasuries and Liberties

Surviving are his wife; two daughters. Mrs. Spencer Jacobs, of Atlanta, and Miss Eva Hamilton, of Hapeville; two sons, Luther E. Hamilton, of Hapeville, and Young T. Hamilton, of Detroit, Mich.; a brother, D. F. Hamilton, of Atlanta, and a sister. Mrs. George Medlock, of Jonesboro. Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Williams Funeral hams.

ALLISON'S DEATH LAID

A coroner's jury Monday returned a verdict that James A. Allison, who was found dead in his home, 1540 Rogers avenue, S. W., Sunday night, came to his death as the result of natural causes. Allison, who body was found by his wife upon her return from church, for many years had been connected with the Atlanta Joint Terminals as an accountant.

At the inquest it was brought out that Allison had suffered a severe throat ailment and that he apparently had died as the result of strangulation caused by the disease. His wife said he had declined to accompany her to church because he felt ill.

Funeral services were held in the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes Monday night, the Revs, W. H. Knight and B. D. Gray officiating. The body will be taken this morning to Walhalla, S. C., for interment. TO NATURAL CAUSES

SHARES ON CURB LOSE EARLY GAINS

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.
NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(49)—Allough the curb market had no "reeal stocks" on its board, shares lost oost of their early gains in the final our of trading today simultaneous ith the decline on the stock exchange with the decline on the stock exchange which apparently centered around the so-called "wet" stocks.

Trading was light, transfers approximating 140,000 shares against 150,000 on Friday.

The early advance was attributed largely to scattered short covering. In the closing hour, although prices turned downward, there was little more than desultory selling. Price changes were not important, gains about offsetting losses.

The utilities again appeared to be buoyed up by the ability of the electric power industry to hold recent gains after making allowance for seasonal variation. Electric Bond & Share, selling ex-dividend, was up more than a point.

Reports that the Cosden reorganization plan was receiving favor which might soon result in taking the company out of receivership caused fresh buying of the company's certificates of deposit, which advanced a fraction. Gulf and Standard of Indiana were a shade higher.

GOOD OUTLOOK SEEN FOR AUTO INDUSTRY

An encouraging outlook for the An encouraging outlook for the automobile industry is seen by F. N. Morgan, vice president in charge of branches of the Reo Motor Car Company, of Lansing, Mich., who was in Atlanta Monday as a guest of C. D. McCracken, manager of the Atlanta branch.

Mr. Morgan based his optimism on Mr. Morgan based his optimism on observations in various sections of the country. He spends about nine months of each year on the road.

"A noticeable increase in good feeling has taken place," Mr. Morgan said. "I have just arrived from a visit to the eastern states. I noticed that the textile industry is running full time.

"So encouraged do we feel about "So encouraged do we feel about the future that we are making our commitments to cover a volume of business equal to that of 1930, which wold give us a substantial increase over 1932, "While the normal yearly production of 3,500,000 cars failed to materialize this rease the industry is leadrialize this year, the industry is look-ing forward to a speedy return to ing forward to a speedy return to normal output.

"The feeling of businessmen with whom I talked was that the new administration will usher in a better business feeling in all lines. We mu t remember that 75 per cent of the population was for the change and be willing to back the result."

NEW YORKER HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $60

George Neely, news service representative of the McGraw Hill Company, of New York, reported to police Monday night that he was held up on the Marietta road near Smyrna shortly after dark by two of three men who occupied a large sedan that zig-zagged in front of his car until he was forced to stop.

Two of the men forced him from the car, he said, snatched his wrist watch from his arm, robbed him of $60, two suitcases containing clothing, a brief case, and then rode off in his car. He reached Atlanta after he was found by passing motorists.

MRS. CONWAY FLOYD DIES AT MIAMI, FLA.

A nurse called today before the Harris county grand jury, which is investigating juvenile vice. testified to having "helped" two girls, one a 14-year-old high school girl, but denied having performed illegal operations in the cases. She had been previously quoted as telling probation authorities of performing four such operations.

Assistant District Attorney Frank Williford, who announced the substance of the woman's testimony, was asked if it closed the inquiry in so far as suspected illegal operations were concerned.

"It certainly does not," he said.

OF HIGH TAXATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(P)—Colonel Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, warned the national conference on law and business today that the squalor of the Dark dages or a system similar to that of the nation to pay for their political dissipation were less wise than the vandals who junked and sent civilization back a thousand years," he said, "but Rome was not the home of the vandals."

The Central Presbyterian church was packed to overflowing Sunday night with people from many sections who had come to hear Gipsy Smith Jr., noted evangelist, who is in the second week of his revival. Sunday night he took Samson and Jacob, two interesting Biblical characters, as the subjects of his discourse.

Mr. Smith referred †7 Samson as a man of great power who fell under the weight of his own sin. As for Jacob, he referred to him as the "trickster."

Crowds were turned away from the evening services. People were crowded in as long as safety would permit. This is the last week of these services and at each capacity crowds are expected to be present. Mr. Smith expects to deliver some of his greatest sermons this week.

He has a different appeal from that of most evangelists, which accounts for people coming from long distances to hear him. He had as his special guests Monday night the men of the church, and on Tuesday night he will have Agnes Scott College and Columbia Theological Seminary students. This is going to be a great week in Atlanta for the people and the church, says Mr. Smith.

The week just closed has been most inspiring to Mr. Smith and he looks forward to this week with renewed interest and devotion.

was left alone. Then his thoughts were often of sciousness, had been the cannibals' prisoner for the circumstances which brought about his cap ture. He was certain his flying career—and his life—were doomed. "What beastly luck!" he thought. BUSINESS SERVICE

"What luck to die this way, after the narrow escapes I've come through!" Many a previous air-crash had he survived. He thought of that one in the India mountains when, to save Patricia Canby, the girl he loved, he had made her jump with a parachute from his burning plane.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Roger remembered how he and his crew had also leaped overboard, attempting to save their lives. How he at last, bruised and battered, landed in a tree top. He recalled vividly the events that followed. He had not known where he was.

These loans are made on the assumption that anyone eager to learn and serious about

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: All my life I have dreamed of being able to go to college and prepare myself to make a good living so I could help my mother and the younger children. We are very poor and have no rich relatives to help us out of our financial difficulties. I graduated at high school lest soring and have here at work culties. I graduated at high school last spring and have been at work since that time. It takes every cent I earn to buy bread and meat and a few clothes. It would take me years to save enough to go to college and I am afraid that I would be too old to learn if I ever could save the money. Can you make any suggestion as to how a young girl working in a restaurant may get to college? PHYLLIS.

save the money. Can you make any suggestion as to how a young girl working in a restaurant may get to college?

ANSWER:

Not long ago there was a picture in some eastern newspapers of a young farm lad milking his cow on the premises of a college campus. He had been, like yourself, eager to get an education and having no cash he traded with the college to come and bring a milk cow and with the milk she gave to pay his way, or a part of it. This is an experiment being tried in the east. But more interesting perhaps is the report of Dr. Helen Mathewson Laughlin, dean of women at a western university. In which she says that 584 young women have overcome almost unsurmountable difficulties in the way of finding full or part-time employment that would enable them to go through the university. RIDGEWAY AVE.—4-rm. frame, $1,100. $100 cash, $15 a mo. No loan, O. M. Haire & Son, CA. 1411; nights, CA. 1553.

Some of these students not only are putting themselves through col-lege but also are contributing to the support of widowed mothers. This particular institution happens to be in a great city and there is consequently a great variety of opportunities. Here are some of the jobs that are being held down by the co-eds: Hat-checking concessions in hotels and theaters, clerking in stores, dressmaking, public and university library work, clerical work in offices, research work and secretarial work, mother's helpers (for room and board), tutoring backward pupils, giving music lessons, acting as telephone operator, and hostess or as waitress in tea rooms.

Lewis Haase, and the management There is usually an air of tenseness about the play of Contract Bridge in tournaments where titles are at stake. Naturally, the players are more interested in the play of each card when the play of it may mean a championship than they are in a social game of Bridge where the hand will be forgotten before the next deal is completed. Some players become deadly serious. They concentrate to the exclusion of every outside interest. Sometimes a player is so engrossed in his mental play of the hand that his physical actions and even his words bear little relation to the problem he is seeking to solve.

In the recent Vanderbilt Cup Tournament, Raymond Balfe, one of the most expert players in the country, was engaged in playing a difficult contract. It was before the adoption of the new international code of laws, and at that time any player might look back at a trick until teither he or his partner had played in turn or otherwise to the next following trick. The unbleached muslin which makes up the other part of the block is creamy with age and spotted with brown freckles, somewhat like the skin of a real old lady.

When I saw the block I knew I wanted to share it with the other quilt club members.

If I were making this up I would set it together with squares of the same size of plain white. And I would put them all the diagonal, so that the wing at the top of the square is flying on the "top of the world" as it were.

ADORABLE FOR KIDDIES.

Pattern 2229.

It's too cunning for words . . . this little kiddie frock. It has a demure voke, which they all love, and captivating pleats neatly top-stitched, to animate the skirt. There are long puffed sleeves, and bloomers, too, mind you. Of course, to correspond perfectly the back of the dress is the same as the front. Use one of those gay cotton prints and you'll have bewitching results.

FORT SMITH, Ark.. Dec. 5.—
(P)—The "gorgio" or "little mother" of the gypsy tribes of America lies in a morgue here apparently forgotten by the nomads whom she served as postmistress for 20 years.
Five days after the death of Mrs, Marie Cole, the expected influx of the Romany wanderers for her burial rites had not materialized tonight and no one knew when or where she would be buried.

Observers of gypsy life and customs were-at a loss to explain the absence of gypsy royalfy unless it was that they were offended by a statement by a niece of Mrs. Cole's that "no gypsy creemonies will be that "no gypsy ceremonies will be allower," or fear, as a source close to gypsies theorized, that Mrs. Cole's safe-deposit box holds secrets of the Spanish, Russian, French and English tribes.
